

ADVANCED NOTIFICATION

Your health insurance company requires you to have a psychological evaluation prior to bariatric surgery. Due to the many different insurance plans and coverage provided by the insurance companies, we would like to make you aware that part of the evaluation may not be covered. There is some psychological testing that will be administered to you. We will bill your insurance company, but this testing may not be covered or may be applied to your deductible. Should you be responsible for any balance, we will bill you. Please be aware that your evaluation will not be completed and released until the entire balance on your account has been paid.
